

WE WANT TO KNOW...

HOW CAN WE SERVE YOU?

QUEREMOS SABER...

¿CÓMO PODEMOS SERVIRLE?

How can we serve you?

Arts, culture, and library resources are at the heart of a thriving community, and we want to hear what's important to you. Lafayette's Library and Arts and Cultural Resources Departments are launching a strategic planning process to identify near and longer-term opportunities, priorities, and goals for their work.

Residents are asked to complete a survey to help identify important issues. Watch for a postcard in the mail and visit lafayetteco.gov/ACLsurvey to complete the survey.

Participate in City's first Wildlife Plan

As urban growth and recreational pressures increase in and around Lafayette, the City's Open Space Division is beginning a process to develop a long-term plan to guide the preservation of local wildlife and ecosystems. The community's values surrounding human-nature connections and insight into key concerns is crucial for an effective outcome.

Opportunities for residents to share input will begin in late November. For important dates and to learn more about the process, visit lafayetteco.gov/WildlifePlan.

THE GOOD LIFE

Lafayette ranks 31 in the U.S. for a Best Place to Live

"Lafayette is a great place to live and if you ask people what makes Lafayette special, it's that warm and welcoming feeling. Our diverse community provides a sense of belonging and has a genuine character all its own," says Fritz Sprague, Lafayette City Administrator. "It's especially rewarding to know new data related to diversity, national heritage, and languages spoken at home were considered to select this year's recipients."
